INTRODUCTION

History

After completing the baseline interviews and discharge from the hospital, patients were re-contacted in the community by the research interviewers and interviewed five times (every ten weeks) over a one year period from the date of discharge. A collateral informant was also interviewed on the same schedule. During each follow-up, the patient was asked to nominate as a collateral the person who was most familiar with his or her behavior in the community. If the collateral nominee did not have at least weekly contact with the subject, the interviewer suggested a more appropriate person based on a review of the subject's social network data. Collaterals were most often family members (47.1%), but were also friends (23.9%), professionals (13.9%), significant others (12.4%), or others (e.g., co-workers; 2.7%). Collaterals were paid for their participation.

Organization

All collateral follow-up interview data (follow-ups 1-5) are contained in one SPSS data file. Variables for the first follow-up interview begin with the letter “v”, variables for subsequent follow-up interviews (i.e., follow-up interviews 2-5) begin with the letters “w”, “x”, “y”, and “z”, respectively. The naming conventions for all of the variables across follow-ups are the same EXCEPT for the first letter as indicated above.

Notes

In some cases (especially in violence screens), there are multiple repeating variables present in the coding manual. Throughout each of the interviews, variable information was often collected in grid format. Whenever there are two variable names listed under the same heading and the names are separated by the word “to” (e.g., v2.2.1b to v2.2.7b), this represents a repeated variable. Variables will always repeat in ascending numerical order throughout the specified range. Throughout the coding manuals, references are commonly made to a particular sets of codes (e.g., See CRIME CLASSIFICATION CODES). These code sheets are located in the MAC CODES folder.
